President’s Message
From Steve Eden

I hope you are making the most of the warm weather and sunshine and taking full advantage of everything that the great outdoors has to offer. I am very proud to be a part of Buffalo Audubon, and the longevity of our organization. Its storied history is not lost on me and was one of the reasons I asked to join the board of directors.

In May, I became the president of the board, and since then, I’ve been thinking a lot about stewardship and legacy concepts. Not only from a personal standpoint but also in a broader philosophical sense in what we, as a collective, are doing to leave a better world for our children and future generations to come. I guess the days spent safe social distancing have given me more time than usual to ponder.

When you chose to become a member of Buffalo Audubon, you make the conscious decision to take a stance to help protect the environment, birds, and wildlife. It is your commitment that drives our organization and allows us to continue to provide valuable and necessary education and advocacy. We are all stewards and how we select to use that responsibility will determine our collective legacy and what kind of world we will leave behind.

Covid-19 has made me a workforce casualty, but this has allowed me to spend time with the Beaver Meadow Audubon Center volunteers over the past four Wednesdays. To say that I am impressed with their enthusiasm, the work they undertake each week, their combined tenure, and their unwavering commitment to Beaver Meadow would be an understatement. The love and care that they put into tending to the Center and surrounding properties are impressive, and without them, the grounds would not be the same. To our volunteers, I say, “Thank You” as each of you is a steward of Beaver Meadow, and the property serves as your legacy.

If you are free on Wednesday mornings, our staff and volunteer crew would graciously accept your help. Simply show up in the parking lot at 9:00 AM, and they will happily welcome you and put you to work. If you are not available on Wednesdays and find yourself with some free time or have a specific skill that you would like to share, Buffalo Audubon could still use your support. All you have to do is let us know how you would like to be involved. You will be glad that you served as a steward for the organization and did your part to leave behind an important legacy for years to come.

Director’s Message
From Ed Sirianno

Many exciting things are happening at Buffalo Audubon this summer, so I’m sharing some highlights of the important news and events.

Have you heard about our summer promotion and free membership to the Buffalo Audubon Society at the beautiful Beaver Meadow Nature Center? Due to the generosity of our board and an anonymous donor, anyone who wishes can join Buffalo Audubon for free for the entire summer and enjoy full access to Beaver Meadow Audubon Center, one of the most beautiful nature preserves in Western New York. Details are available on our website at buffaloaudubon.org. Please take advantage of this one time offer.

We know how important being outdoors can be for your health and well-being. Spending time enjoying the out-of-doors with friends and loved ones is rejuvenating. From wide-open grassy paths designed for kids and families to more challenging trails filled with abundant wildlife, there is something for everyone to enjoy a walk or hike on our beautifully groomed, well-mapped nature trails.

COVID-19 requires us to reimagine our usual summer programs, activities, and nature education. This summer, Beaver Meadow Audubon Center is offering 7 weeks of fun, personalized nature education. Choose your area of interest (more information on page 6) and come to your Center to experience nature while learning more about birds, pollinators, and wildlife. Come and investigate the beaver pond or hike in an old-growth forest. Learn from one of our experienced naturalists, or explore on your own or with your family by renting a Nature Adventure Kit. There is so much to do, see and hear and experience.

Our home here in Buffalo and WNY is also the Northern end of the Atlantic Flyway. This area has been designated as the “globally significant” Niagara River Corridor Important Birding Area (NRCIBA) and is home to more than 20,000 migrating birds. This summer Buffalo Audubon and our partners at the DEC (others) will be creating a new island in the Niagara River to support the conservation and provide habitat for the Common Tern.

Finally, as we head into the summer, we’re working on bringing our strategic plan to life. A critical component of that plan is our commitment to creating a nature center that supports inclusion, diversity, equity, and action (IDEA). We invite you to join us in our efforts and hope that you’ll help us to live in and create a better world.

The Changing World of Birding
From Tom Kerr

Our world will not be the same after the COVID-19 pandemic. At the time this article was written over 122,000 people have died in the United States, and that tragic number will keep climbing for the foreseeable future. There have been far-reaching effects that have changed how we will have to handle everyday life, and the birding world is no different. Buffalo Audubon was forced to cancel almost all of our birding programs over the last three months, and will have to rethink how we run our programs moving forward.

In these unparalleled times, there was something to be encouraged about. Many people turned to nature and to birding during a time where they couldn’t be with friends and family, go to the movies or a restaurant, or spend an evening watching sports. eBird, a popular site where people log birdwatching sightings has reported increased downloads of their mobile app and submitted checklists. eBird’s May 9th Global Big Day broke records for birds counted and checklists submitted. Facebook birding groups noticed increases in memberships as well. Our local group, Buffalo-Niagara Birding, has added almost 500 new members since mid-March. When spring migration started in May, many of these people became aware of the beautiful birds that stop here to rest for the first time.

With all these new birders joining us, it is even more important that we make sure the outdoors and the birding community are as welcoming and inclusive for people of every background. As the events past month have shown us, that isn’t always the case. Many of us heard the story from Central Park, where Christian Cooper, a well-known birdwatcher and board member of NYC Audubon, approached a woman and asked her to leash her dog. She responded by dialing 911 and telling police an African American man was threatening to hurt her and her dog. Even though she was the one breaking the law, she attempted to weaponize the police against a Black man who was simply enjoying nature. Christian Cooper recorded the confrontation, which went viral over Facebook and Twitter. The National Audubon society responded by promoting Black Birders Week, which featured many men and women telling their stories and experiences of what it is like to be a person of color and a birder. While this was happening in our birding community, the entire country was seeing protests of racial injustice sparked by the murder of George Floyd. As stories and interviews of minoritized birders were shared across social media birding groups, most were met with discussions of how we can make the birding community more inclusive. Unfortunately, many groups across the country removed such posts. Members claimed they were too political, and that birding should be an activity where people escape from talk of politics.

As the birding community is confronted with these issues, it is important that we keep the discussion going. If we want birding to be an activity that allows people to escape from the problems in our world, we need to make sure it is that way for everyone, no matter what their background. Pay attention to the politics and how they affect birds, their habitats, and the birding community. If another birder tells you to “stick to birds” remind them why you can’t.
Nature Center Opening Info

Our Nature Center at Beaver Meadow will be opening to the public on Wednesday, July 15th! Limited areas within the building will be open including the Restrooms, Gift Shop, Lobby area, second floor Main Exhibit Area. The Reptile Room, Discovery Room and Upstairs Lounge will not be open at this time.

Beaver Meadow Trails are open daily from Sunrise to Sunset.

Our new building hours are:

These hours are subject to change going forward. To ensure the visitor center is open, please feel free to contact us!

FOR YOUR SAFETY AND OURS

What are our plans for keeping visitors safe? Before you enter the building, we will require the following at this time:

- Contact Tracing—our volunteer greeters will ask you for your contact information if the instance should occur that one of our visitors is diagnosed with COVID-19. Having your information will allow us to let you know as soon as we do!
- Verbal Questionnaire—our volunteer greeters will ask you a few quick questions upon entering the building.
- Temperature Check—our volunteer greeters will take your temperature with a no touch thermometer to ensure you do not have a fever.
- Wear a Mask—we will require anyone entering the building or participating in any of our guided programs to wear a mask. This is for your safety as well as our staff and volunteers. Thank you in advance for respecting this policy.

Our building will have hand-sanitizer available for your use. Restrooms will be open during posted hours and will be sanitized every 2 hours. Only one person/family will be allowed in the restrooms at a time. Directional flow signs throughout the open areas of the building will allow for visitors to safely distance from others. Exits on each level will be marked.
Festivals at Beaver Meadow

Buffalo Audubon will not be hosting

Beaver Meadow’s Wild Summer or

Enchanted Forest in 2020.

We are very sorry to cancel these festivals due to the COVID-19 pandemic and uncertainty around large group gatherings. We hope to be back at it bigger and better in 2021!

THANK YOU

M&T BANK OF BUFFALO

This spring M&T Bank held a bottle and can drive and raised funds so they could purchase trees and shrubs to help as streamside buffers, and pollinator habitats. Our heartfelt thank you to Joanne Hajduk for coordinating their project and providing Beaver Meadow Audubon Center with a variety of beautiful broadleaf seedlings for future generations to enjoy. Thank you for thinking green!

Small Group Birding Tours

Beaver Meadow
$120 – Up to 4 people – 2 Hours – Wednesday to Saturday – 7:00 AM
Visit Buffalo Audubon’s flagship preserve for a guided birding tour with Audubon Naturalist Tom Kerr. Beaver Meadow’s diversity of habitats makes it one of the best birding hotspots in Western New York. During the summer months, we will look for nesting warblers including Blue-winged, Hooded, and Mourning. Indigo Buntings, Yellow-Bellied Sapsuckers, and Scarlet Tanagers are also found nesting throughout the preserve.

Rose Acres
$120 – Up to 4 people – 2 Hours – Wednesday to Saturday – 7:00 AM
Visit Buffalo Audubon’s best kept secret on a guided birding tour with Audubon Naturalist Tom Kerr. Rose Acres is a smaller, quieter preserve with nesting Mourning Warblers, Eastern Bluebirds, and others. Enjoy picturesque views of an active Beaver Pond as we search for birds in this secluded habitat.

Owl Prowl
$120 – Up to 4 People – 2 Hours – Friday and Saturday – 9:00 PM
Enjoy a private nocturnal hike at Beaver Meadow with Audubon Naturalist Tom Kerr in search of Eastern Screech-owls and Barred Owls that live in the habitat of Beaver Meadow. Tours start with a meet and greet with Zelda, our non-releasable Screech-owl.

Custom Birding Experience
$75 per hour – Up to 4 people – Call for availability
Contact us to schedule a custom birding experience guided by Audubon Naturalist Tom Kerr. If you are visiting the area and looking to add birds to your life list, or just looking for a more personalized experience, this is your best option. We’ll find you the birds you are looking for!

Buffalo Audubon is offering private birding tours to provide a safe and enjoyable guided birding experience during the Covid-19 emergency. To protect our staff and our participants, facemasks are required for all birding tours on Buffalo Audubon property. Binoculars are available for an additional fee of $5.00 to cover cleaning and sanitizing. All private birding tours booked before October 1st will include a free three month membership with Buffalo Audubon.

Nature Adventure Kits at Beaver Meadow

Are you looking for a fun experience without having to physically distance as part of a larger group of people that you do not know? Our nature adventure kits might be just what you are looking for!

Each week in July and August, we will feature a kit with a different nature theme. For just $25, you will be able to borrow a nature adventure kit to use at Beaver Meadow with your family or group (up to 6 people). We will supply you with all the materials you need to explore Beaver Meadow based on the weekly theme. Reservations and pre-payment are required by calling 585-457-3228. In the case of inclement weather, your reservation can be rescheduled.

Weekly Themes:

July 15-19: Insects and Pollinators — explore the fascinating world of insects in the field at Beaver Meadow! We will provide the video instruction, nets, bug viewing boxes, and other materials to look at insects and pollinators up close!

July 22-26: Pond Life — investigate the underwater world of our Arboretum pond! The pond hosts animals of all shapes and sizes. We will provide video instruction, pond nets, viewing containers, identification guides and more!

July 29—August 2: For the Birds — explore the preserve to find out which feathered friends frequent different areas. We will provide video instruction to learn how to use binoculars, personalized Beaver Meadow field guide to common birds, birding activities to do and more!

August 5-9: Life Under a Log — explore the often overlooked world of decomposers! Rotting logs hide an entire ecosystem that is essential to the cycle of life. We will provide video instruction, field guides, viewing boxes, tips and tricks to explore these micro-habitats.

August 12-16: Trees — how much do you know about the trees around you? We all need trees! We will provide information on tree identification, leaves, materials to conduct your own tree investigation activities, and how to measure the height of a tree.

August 19-23: Rewilding Skills — do you have what it takes to survive if you get lost in the forest? We’ll teach you how to make a shelter, navigate, which plants may help you and more!

August 26-30: Choose your Adventure from those listed above.

All nature adventure kits booked before October 1st will include a free three month membership with Buffalo Audubon. Each kit will also contain a nature journal to record your observations and sightings as well as fun gift to take home!
Upcoming Programs

Visit Beaver Meadow!

Our flagship preserve and headquarters offers something for everyone! A nature play area for kids of all ages (and adults that like to act like kids – currently closed due to Reopen NY restrictions), a variety of hiking trails, and several areas to just sit, relax, and BE in a peaceful setting. Bring a picnic lunch and make a day of it! For directions, visit: www.buffaloaudubon.org

When you visit please leave your pets at home. Enjoy a hike but stay on the trails. Walk, don’t run. Please don’t take anything home that you didn’t come with. Most importantly, have fun!

_Thanks for visiting us at Beaver Meadow._

All programs require pre-registration and space will be limited to a maximum of 10 people per program including the instructor(s). Face masks are required.

To register and pay in advance, please call (585) 457-3228.

Volunteer with Us

Every Wednesday is volunteer day at Beaver Meadow! Join us from 9am-2pm for coffee and donuts and then help maintain the trails, work in the office or take on the “project of the day.” There’s no need to register but bring a lunch. Everyone is welcome – even first timers! Call the Center if you have any questions.

Volunteers make all that we do at Buffalo Audubon and Beaver Meadow possible! Thanks to all those who give so generously of their time and talents. Face masks are required to be worn by all volunteers.

July 2020

12 Sun 9am-2pm Allenburg Bog Walk – A casual hike through the preserve in search of summertime flora and other interesting facets of this unique environment. A fascinating refuge of 390 acres, it is a jewel of the Buffalo Audubon Preserve System. Space is limited and pre-registration and payment is required by emailing Lauren Makeyenko at lauren@buffaloaudubon.org.

Weekly Theme: Insects and Pollinators

16 Thurs 2-3:30pm Sweep-Netting in the Meadow – Join us outdoors at Beaver Meadow for a guided sweep-netting program to look for insects and arthropods. Get an up close look at some of the important pollinators that call our meadow home. Pre-registration is required. $10.

17 Fri 7-9pm Firefly Fun! – Join us and learn some fun firefly facts and make and decorate your own portable habitat to view them up close! We’ll search the meadow for our bioluminescent friends. This program will take place completely outdoors. Please dress appropriately. Pre-registration is required. $12.

18 Sat 2-3pm Reptiles & Amphibians Meet and Greet - Join us in the Beaver Meadow Nature Center for a short talk on the Reptiles and Amphibians that make their home in the different habitats of Western New York. We will feature a new cold-blooded creature every week, and learn all about where to find them in Western New York. Be sure to bring a camera! Donations gratefully accepted.

Weekly Theme: Pond Life

23 Thurs 2-3:30pm Hidden World of the Pond – Join us for a guided pond exploration using dip nets and other tools. Many insects and amphibians begin their life in the pond. Learn more about this part of their life cycle and their role in the food chain! Pre-registration is required. $10.

24 Fri 2-3pm Meet and Greet with Zelda – Join us in the Beaver Meadow Nature Center for a short talk on Eastern Screech-owls with our Screech-owl
Ambassador Zelda! Eastern Screech-owls are one of the most common birds of prey in Western New York but often go overlooked because of their nocturnal nature. Learn about where they live, what they eat, and the adaptations they have for hunting at night. Be sure to bring a camera! Donations gratefully accepted.

25 Sat 10-11:30am - Hidden World of the Pond – Join us for a guided pond exploration using dip nets and other tools. Many insects and amphibians begin their life in the pond. Learn more about this part of their life cycle and their role in the food chain! Pre-registration is required. $10.

25 Sat 2-3pm Turtle Race – We’re off to the races! Which turtle species do you think is the fastest? Join us for some fun times learning more about our resident reptiles! Donations gratefully accepted.

Weekly Theme: For the Birds

29-August 2 Nature Adventure Kit: For the Birds— see page 6 for details.

30 Thurs 2-3:30pm Learn to Bird – Join us for a kid’s beginner birding lesson! Learn to use binoculars and a field guide to find our feathered friends at Beaver Meadow or in your own backyard. We’ll take a short walk through the different habitats at Beaver Meadow and see how many we can find. Pre-registration is required. $10.

31 Fri 2-3pm Fri 2-3pm Meet and Greet with Zelda – see July 24th program description for details.

August 2020

1 Sat 9-10:30am Let’s Go Birding Together: Delaware Park – Let’s Go Birding Together walks are for everyone who loves birds and the outdoors. We welcome those who identify as LGBTQIA++, allies, families, and anyone who wants to enjoy an outdoor experience that is inclusive. Pre-registration is required. Donations gratefully accepted.

1 Sat 10-11:30am Birding at Beaver Meadow – Join us for a birding hike around the pond at Beaver Meadow! Many birds have already begun their fall journey south. We’ll see how many we can find on the pond and in the diverse habitats that surround it. Pre-registration is required. $10.

1 Sat 2-3pm Reptiles & Amphibians Meet and Greet – see July 18th program description for details.

Weekly Theme: Life Under a Log

5-9 Nature Adventure Kit: Life Under a Log see page 6 for details.

6 Thurs 2-3:30pm Nature’s Recyclers – Let’s learn about the decomposers that live on the forest floor and under rotting logs. Without decomposers, dead leaves, dead insects, and dead animals would pile up everywhere! Pre-registration is required. $10.

7 Fri 2-3pm Meet and Greet with Zelda – see July 24th program description for details.

8 Sat 10-11:30am Salamander Search – Flip over some logs and search for salamanders at Beaver Meadow! We’ll learn about these fascinating amphibians and their life cycle, as well as how to safely handle and identify them. Pre-registration is required. $10.
